

“We have to make consumers sure that our trade acts responsibly, both at environmental and social level, this is our most important task for the future.”